Richard is known for providing legally sophisticated advice when dealing with disputes in highly complex regulatory and business environments, especially the telecommunications sector

Richard Lizius is a partner in our Litigation Group and Intellectual Property Litigation groups in Toronto. Richard's areas of expertise include administrative law, appellate litigation, copyright litigation and patent litigation, with a particular focus on the telecommunications industry (and highly regulated industries generally). Richard appeared as counsel before the Supreme Court of Canada in the Vavilov administrative law trilogy (the most important administrative law decision of the last decade). Richard also maintains a general litigation practice including contract, oppression and negligence disputes. Richard incorporates litigation advice into broader litigation, regulatory and business strategies, which is of particular importance in highly regulated industries.

Richard has appeared as counsel before all levels of court in Ontario, as well as the Federal Court, Federal Court of Appeal and Supreme Court of Canada.

Richard's notable recent mandates include:

- Successfully representing Bell Canada and the National Football League before the Supreme Court of Canada (as well as at the Federal Court of Appeal) in the administrative law trilogy (known as Vavilov) the most important administrative law decision of the past decade - Bell Canada and National Football League v. Canada, 2019 SCC 66
- Successfully defending Bell Canada and TELUS in a patent infringement trial concerning television patents (all the asserted patents were found to be not valid or not infringed, and the Plaintiff was not permitted equitable relief) – Rovi Guides, Inc. v. Bell Canada, 2022 FC 1388
- Successfully representing a pharmaceutical company in a patent infringement trial concerning a pneumococcus vaccine - Merck Sharp & Dohme Corp. v. Wyeth LLC, 2021 FC 317
- Representing Bell Canada in numerous appeals concerning regulatory decisions of the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission before the Federal Court of Appeal - Bell Canada et al. v. British Columbia Broadband Association et al., 2020 FCA 140; Bell Canada v. Canada (Attorney General), 2019 SCC 66; Bell Canada v. 7265921 Canada Ltd., 2018 FCA 174; Bell Canada and National Football League v. Attorney General of Canada, 2017 FCA 249; Bell Canada v. Canada (Attorney General), 2016 FCA 217; Bell Mobility Inc. v. Klass, 2016 FCA 185
- Representing a coalition of six ISPs (Rogers, Bell, TELUS, SaskTel, Cogeco, Xplore) intervening in a reverse class action concerning whether ISPs can be forced to play a role in litigation against their customers pursuant to the Copyright Act – ongoing (T-662-16)
