Daniel delivers practical and effective solutions to his clients.

Daniel is a first year Litigation Associate in the Toronto office. Throughout his legal education and practice, Daniel has pursued general litigation experience. He has an interest in class actions, privacy disputes, environmental disputes, product liability disputes and international arbitration. Daniel has a Bachelor of Knowledge Integration (BKI) from the University of Waterloo. He completed his Juris Doctor studies at Queen's Faculty of Law, where he received numerous course and class ranking awards. His educational background has given him a true appreciation for the interdisciplinary nature of legal problems. He has been actively involved in youth community work in Southwestern Ontario for over a decade.

Daniel was called to the bar in 2022 and is a member of the Law Society of Ontario, the Ontario Bar Association, and the Canadian Bar Association.
