Gabriel is an associate in our Business Law Group in Montreal where he is also a member of our Cyber/Data Group. His practice focuses on privacy and data protection, IT outsourcing, cyber/data work, and private M&A and transactional matters.

His experience includes:

- drafting privacy policies, privacy and cybersecurity incident response and policies and procedures, and other related governance documents for various private sector and non-profit organizations;
- conducting a privacy impact assessment for a public sector organization;
- drafting a current state and gap assessment report to help a client develop a roadmap to achieve compliance with privacy laws, including Alberta's Personal Information Protection Act, British Columbia's Personal Information Protection Act, Canada's Anti-Spam Legislation, the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act and Quebec's Act respecting the protection of personal information in the private sector, as amended by An Act to modernize legislative provisions as regards the protection of personal information;
- conducting corporate and intellectual property due diligence in the context of private M&As;
- acting for oxio in the $100 million acquisition of its telecommunications operations by Cogeco Connexion Inc.;
- acting for Athos Commemorative Services Inc. in its acquisition of Memoria; and
- acting for Sagard Private Equity Canada in its investment in the share capital of Groupe Norbec Inc.

Prior to joining the firm, Gabriel held several positions in the fields of politics, diplomacy, and security. As an Intelligence Analyst at a Tel Aviv-based security firm, he analyzed geopolitical trends in the Middle East, helping corporate clients navigate a complex business environment. He also worked as a Parliamentary Assistant to Canada's Minister of International Trade and, more recently, as a Director of Political and Public Affairs in a foreign
