Law School

University of Calgary

Amanda recently completed her second year of law school at the University of Calgary. Prior to law school, Amanda earned her undergraduate degree in General Mathematics from the University of Calgary. After graduation, Amanda obtained her Chartered Professional Accountant (CPA) designation and worked for four years at an accounting firm, specializing in corporate and M&A tax.

During law school, Amanda volunteered for Pro Bono Students Canada with the Trellis Youth Legal Information Project and will be serving as the VP of Finance for the Society of Law Students for the upcoming school year.

Amanda enjoys spending her free time skiing or hiking in the mountains and playing pickleball with friends.
