Julien Brodeur is a student at our Montreal office. He is currently completing his Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.) at the Université de Sherbrooke as part of the cooperative program. He is particularly interested in civil and commercial litigation, professional liability, and public law.

Julien previously obtained a Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy (B.A.) from McGill University in 2020 and subsequently earned a Master of Arts in Philosophy (M.A.) from the Université de Montréal in 2022, where his thesis received a mention of excellence. He held the position of teaching assistant for several courses and was a research assistant for a professor at the Université de Montréal.

Recognized for his academic and community involvement, he served as president of the McGill Parks Canada Campus Club (MPCCC) and was a member of the Graduate Studies Committee at the Université de Montréal. During his law studies, he was involved with the Revue de droit de l'Université de Sherbrooke (RDUS) and with Pro Bono Students Canada (PBSC). His outstanding academic results earned him a place on the Dean's List.
