Law School

University of British Columbia

Kevin is a law student at the Peter A. Allard School of Law at the University of British Columbia. He received his M.Sc. in Economics for Development from the University of Oxford and an Honours' Bachelor of Arts in Economics from the University of British Columbia. Prior to attending law school, Kevin worked as a researcher and consultant in international development for the World Bank's Data Development Group, the UN Population Fund, and the Oxford Department of International Development.

In 2L, he had the opportunity to compete in the Philip C. Jessup International Moot Competition where he was awarded third overall oralist in the Canadian national rounds. He currently serves as a senator for the UBC-Vancouver Senate and Vice-Chair of the Senate Admissions Committee.

In his spare time, Kevin enjoys watching horror movies, playing ultimate frisbee, and hiking at the North Shore with his dog.
