Team Value and Skills

Annie Lacroix is a law clerk in our Litigation Group in Toronto. She primarily assists the Ontario College of Teachers (a professional regulator) in the prosecution of discipline and capacity matters. Annie investigates complaints, prepares pleadings, and meets with witnesses. She is involved in each step of the process leading up to and including hearings. Fully bilingual in French and English, Annie assists in the management of all French-language files from the Ontario College of Teachers.

Experience

Prior to joining McCarthy Tétrault, Annie practiced as a litigation law clerk at another large national commercial firm, supporting clients in the area of medical malpractice defence. She also has experience in the non-profit sector, as office manager of a community legal aid clinic.

Certifications and Education

- B.A. (Hons), University of Toronto, 1996
- Associate, Institute of Law Clerks of Ontario
