Lindsay, a Juris Doctor graduate from the University of Ottawa, possesses over a decade of experience working with individuals from diverse backgrounds. Lindsay's professional journey began from her undergraduate degree in Law & Society, which she obtained with Distinction at the University of Calgary. Lindsay has accumulated valuable expertise through her involvement in the service industry, various Calgary-based not-for-profit organizations, and law firms. Prior to and during law school, Lindsay gained experience in real estate law, personal injury law, and corporate law.

Lindsay places great importance on community engagement and dedicates herself to being a passionate advocate for the Newcomers' community. Through volunteering, Lindsay continues to provide support to this community. During her time in law school, Lindsay collaborated with a Calgary-based non-profit organization focused on assisting youth with immigrant backgrounds. Furthermore, Lindsay actively contributed to the legal community during her law school years. In Lindsay's final year of law school, she held the position of Vice President of Social Affairs for the University of Ottawa's Common Law Student Society.

In her spare time, Lindsay enjoys event planning, cooking, and dining at new restaurants in Calgary.
